HEALTH BUREAU CHIEF NEXT SPEAKER
IN UM ENVIRONMENTAL SERIES

MISSOULA--

Larry Lloyd, Helena, chief of the Occupational <sup>Health</sup> / Bureau of the Montana Department of Health and Environmental Sciences, will be the featured speaker in the next environmental seminar scheduled for 12:10 p.m. Friday (Jan. 26) at the University of Montana.

The seminar, open to the public free of charge, will be conducted in room 307 of the Natural Science on the Missoula campus.

Lloyd, a health physicist, has been involved in the improvement and enforcement of standards for medical and dental X-ray use. Recently he has been monitoring radioactive effluents from phosphate reduction plants and is developing baseline environmental radioactivity studies in the eastern Montana coalfields.

His address is entitled "Radiation Hazards in Montana."

The seminar series is sponsored by the UM botany department under the direction of Dr. Meyer Chessin, botany professor.
